RELEVANT PROJECT EXPERIENCE

Midtown Development, Williamsburg, VA – Project Designer for the redevelopment of an existing shopping center in Williamsburg, VA. The 19.44 acre site will be redeveloped to accommodate four new mixed-use buildings of modular construction. The buildings total approximately 250,000 square feet of residential and amenity space and over 60,000 ft of new ground floor retail space. (In Process)

1508-1512 21st St. NW, Washington, DC – Project Designer for the renovation with addition of three existing late 19th-century row houses to be transformed into Condominiums. With the preservation and restoration of the main façades to their original state, the Project was approved by the DC Historic Preservation Review Board.

Paulist Residence, Washington, DC – Project Designer for the residential building for the Paulist Fathers of the Saint Paul's College. The new building, adjacent to existing historic buildings, will contain 22 dwelling units, cafeteria, meeting rooms, library, ministry space and a Chapel. (In Process)

37 L St. SE, Washington, DC – Project Designer for the new 11-story multi-family residential condominium building. The proposed design will have 74 residential units, with rooftop amenity space and 3 levels of underground parking. (In Process)
