

John K. Edwards, Assoc. AIA, LEED AP BD+C

Associate Partner

Bonstra | Haresign ARCHITECTS

With over 27 years of experience in the architectural profession, John Edwards, Assoc. AIA, LEED AP BD+C, has worked with BJHA since 2005, directing a diverse portfolio including historic renovations, new construction, adaptive-reuse conversions, and large-scale master planning projects. As the firm's Senior Sustainable Design Leader, Mr. Edwards contributes an expert understanding of sustainable technologies and certification processes. He has served on design juries for the UMD School of Architecture, American Resort Development Association and the CUA School of Architecture, as well as presenting at CUA's continuing education program on sustainable design.

Prior to joining BJHA, Mr. Edwards was with SMB Architects, where he implemented the award-winning National Association of Realtors headquarters, the city's first new commercial building to earn LEED Silver certification. Prior to this, he served as Senior Manager and Interim Executive Director of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture, developing architectural education programs in the US/Canada, and spearheading reform of the architectural internship process with the AIA and NCARB.

A native DC resident, Mr. Edwards has an undergraduate degree in political science and history from the University of Virginia as well as an M.Arch. from the University of Maryland. Currently serving as an AIA nominee and team chair for National Architectural Accrediting Board professional school accreditation teams, he has been an active member of Lambda Alpha International, the Washington Architectural Foundation, St. Mark's Church Capitol Hill, Whitman-Walker Clinic, and the Capitol Hill Community Foundation.
